RE: Variance Request # 862015

On April 20, 2015, the Food Protection office of the Indiana State Department of Health (ISDH) received a request from you representing a retail food establishment to vary section 187 of 410 IAC 7-24, "Retail Food Establishment Sanitation Requirements", relating to the acidification of sushi rice. After review of the application, there were questions and additional pieces of information that were needed to fully understand and complete the review to make a final determination on the request. A letter was sent on April 21, 2015 offering an opportunity for you to provide this information before a final decision could be made. As of this date, no response to the letter has been received; therefore, it is necessary for this variance request to be denied.
